

Lime slaking process

- Adpap provides both batch and continuous slaking for the Lime slaking processes.
- The continuous lime slaker process usually consists of: powder handling, slaking, post slaking, screening and lime milk storage.

Continuous Slaker

adpap

Lime slaking process

- The batch slaker is similar to the continuous slaker but there is no need for the post slaker.
- For more information about the lime slaking process and possibilities, send your request to Adpap.
- Adpap will provide its customers with the best possible solutions.

