

Surface size preparation

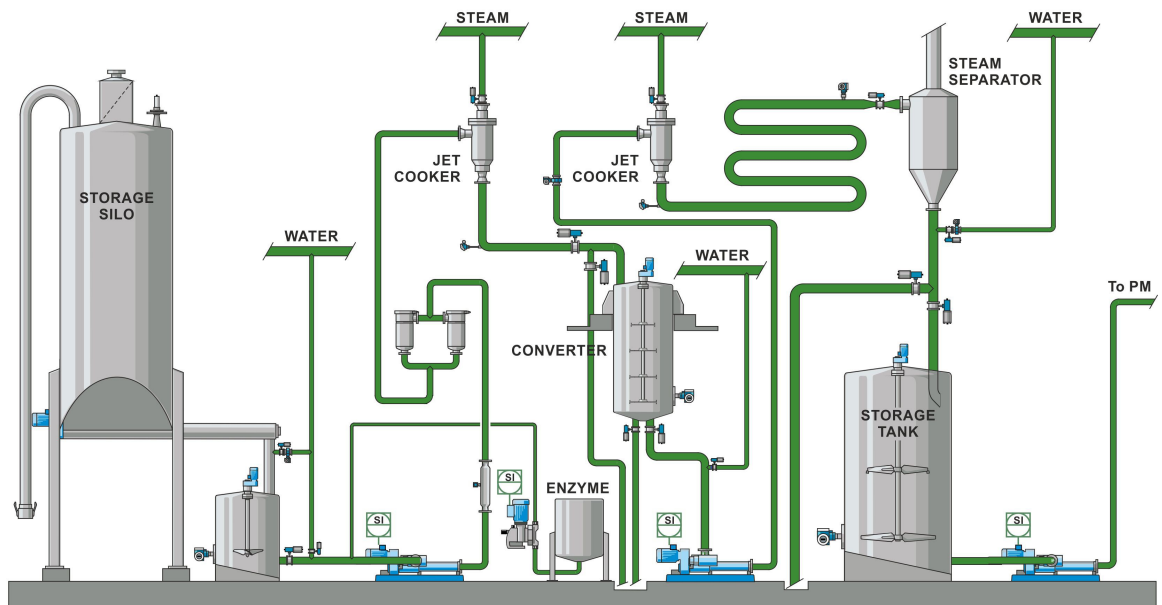

Adpap provides surface size preparation for different starch types and for both native and modified starch. They also include dosing process of surface size additives.

Continuous surface size preparation contains:

- Powder handling
- Dispersing unit
- Enzym unit
- Jet-cooking units
- Maturing tank
- Steam separation
- Dilution
- Storage tank

adpap

Size preparation

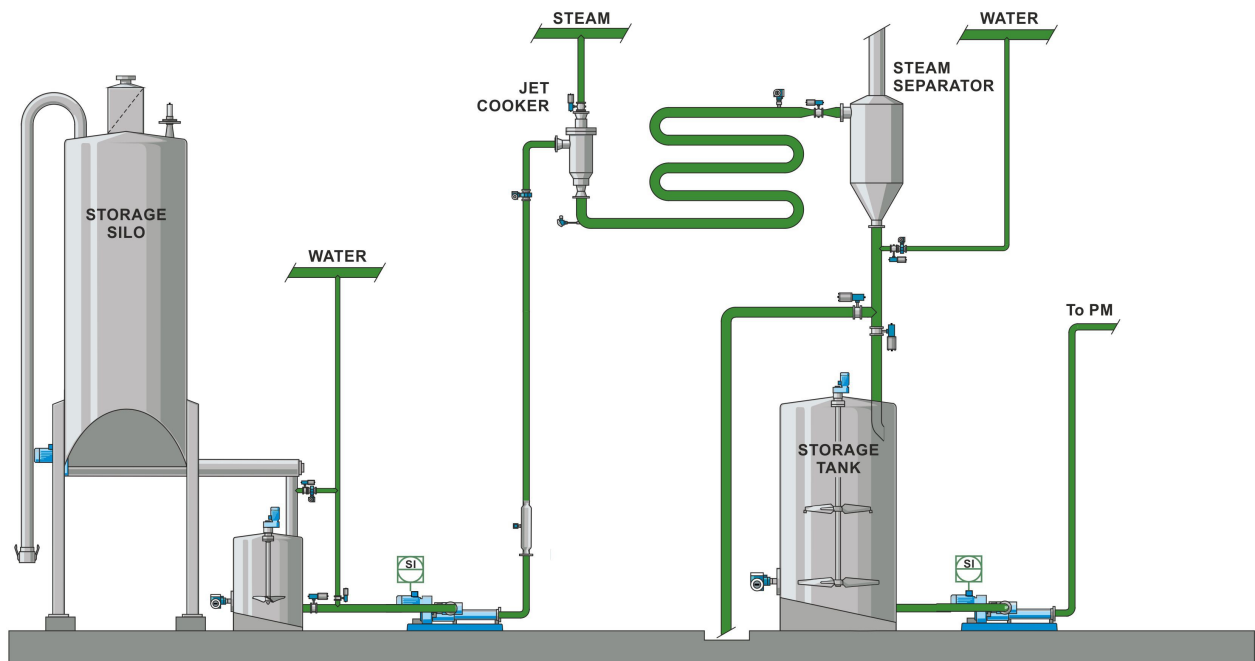

Surface size preparation

- Surface size preparation without enzyme is showed in the picture below.
- Containing: powder handling, disperser unit, jet cooker, steam separator and storage tank.
- Adpap provides the best possible solution to the customers needs.

adpap

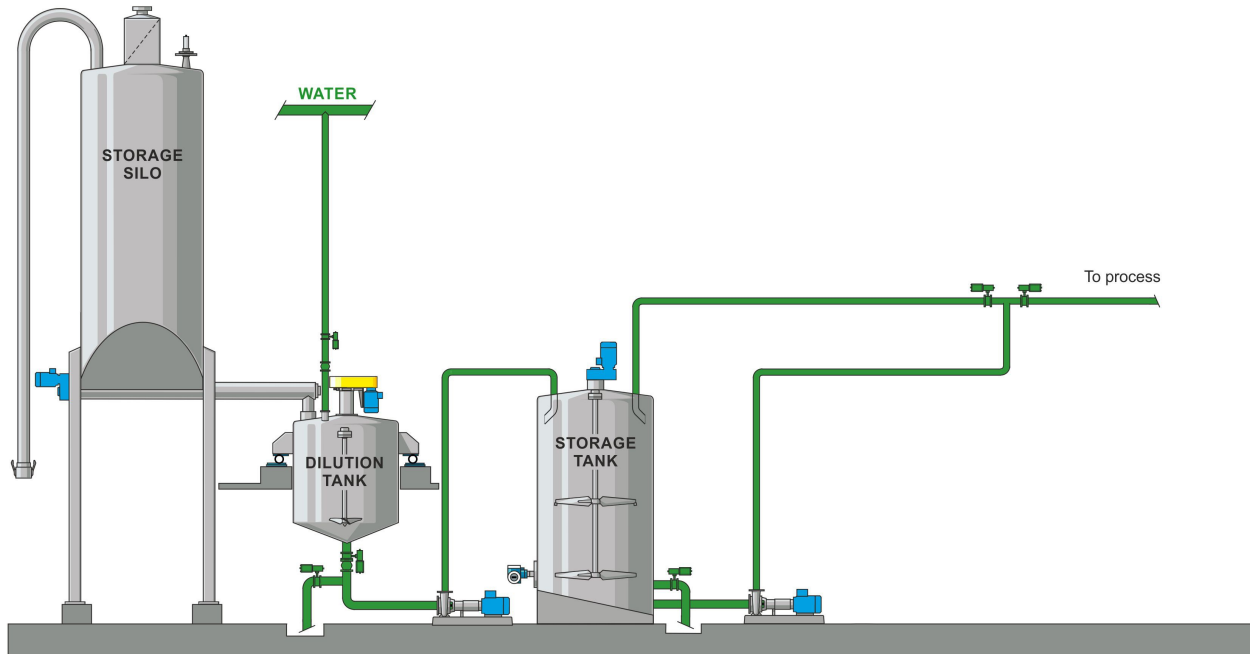

Size preparation (no enzyme)

Surface size preparation

adpap

Surface size preparation (batch)

- Batch surface size preparation contains: powder handling, combined dispersing- and cooking unit and storage tank.
- For more information about the surface size preparation contact Adpap to find the best solution to your process.